CELEBRATION OF TEACHERS DAY

FACULTY OF MBA

Teachers' Day celebrated at Faculty of MBA, a day dedicated to honoring the invaluable contributions of educators, was celebrated with heartfelt tributes and events across the nation today. This day, observed on the birth anniversary of India's second President, Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, serves as an opportunity to express gratitude to teachers for their tireless efforts in shaping the future of the nation. In recognition of exceptional teaching, many teachers were honored with awards and accolades during the celebrations. Schools and educational organizations took this opportunity to acknowledge educators who have gone above and beyond in their commitment to imparting knowledge. In today's digital age, technology played a significant role in celebrating Teachers' Day. Virtual ceremonies and online events allowed students and teachers to connect, despite the challenges posed by the ongoing pandemic. Social media platforms were flooded with messages and tributes using dedicated hashtags, further highlighting the importance of teachers in society.

Government officials and leaders also extended their warm wishes to teachers and acknowledged their vital role in nation-building. Various state governments announced initiatives to support and uplift the teaching community, further emphasizing the importance of quality education.

Teachers' Day is not only about celebrating the past and present but also about inspiring the future. The day serves as a reminder of the critical role that educators play in shaping the leaders, innovators, and thinkers of tomorrow. Teachers' Day is a day of reflection and gratitude, recognizing the teachers who have selflessly dedicated their lives to nurturing young minds. It underscores the idea that education is the foundation of progress and that teachers are the torchbearers of knowledge, guiding generations toward a brighter future. Students and teachers of Faculty of MBA participated enthusiastically in the celebration of Teachers day.

INTERACTIVE SESSION ON CORPORATE EXPECTATIONS FROM MBA STUDENTS

FACULTY OF MBA

An interactive session on corporate expectations from MBA students was organized in the Faculty of MBA on September 01, 2023. Hon. Shri. Sumedh Gupte, Regional Head of Business Standard was the resource person for the program.

He guided the students on various aspects of corporate expectations: Corporations often have specific expectations from MBA (Master of Business Administration) students due to the knowledge and skills they acquire during their education. Here are some common expectations: MBA students are expected to have a strong understanding of business fundamentals, including finance, marketing, operations, and strategy. They should be able to apply these principles to real-world situations. Corporations look for MBA graduates who demonstrate leadership potential. This includes the ability to lead teams, make critical decisions, and inspire others to achieve common goals. Employers expect MBA students to be proficient in data analysis and problem-solving. They should be able to analyze complex business issues and propose data-driven solutions. Clear and concise communication, both written and verbal, is crucial in the corporate world. MBA students are expected to convey their ideas and strategies effectively to colleagues, clients, and stakeholders. The business landscape is constantly changing. MBA graduates should be adaptable and open to learning new skills and staying updated on industry trends. Corporations expect MBA students to make ethical decisions and adhere to a strong code of conduct. Ethical behavior is essential in maintaining a company's reputation and integrity. The ability to work effectively in cross-functional teams is highly valued. MBA students should be able to collaborate with colleagues from diverse backgrounds and contribute to team success. In today's globalized business environment, corporations seek MBA graduates who have a global perspective and are aware of international business practices and cultural differences.

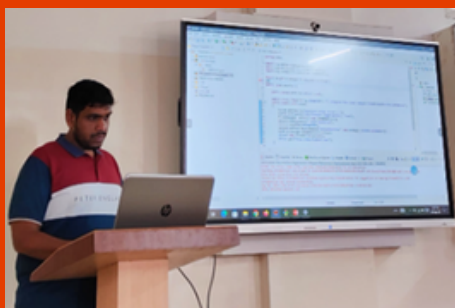

The session was inaugurated at the hands of Shri. Sumedh Gupte jee, Prof. R. D. Mohite, Dr. R. R. Chavan, Dr. S. A. Bhosale, Prof. M.V. Landgae and Prof. P. R. Patil were also present on the occasion. It's important to note that expectations may vary depending on the industry, company culture, and specific job roles. MBA students should tailor their skills and experiences to meet the expectations of the organizations they aspire to join.

The Digital Classroom is equipped with the latest technology, ensuring an enriched learning experience for our students.

Following the inauguration of the Digital Classroom, Mr. Kaustub Phadtare shared his invaluable insights and guidance with our first-year students. His words of wisdom, drawn from his extensive experience in the industry, resonated deeply with the young minds eager to embark on their engineering journey. He emphasized the importance of innovation, adaptability, and ethical practices in the engineering profession. Mr. Phadtare also encouraged students to pursue their passions and explore diverse fields within engineering. He urged them to stay updated with the latest technological advancements and to embrace challenges as opportunities for growth. Prof. R. D. Mohite, as the Associate Director of our esteemed institution, provided valuable advice on academic excellence and career prospects. He stressed the significance of a strong foundation in engineering fundamentals and the importance of continuous learning.

Aditi Bhosale student of AI&DS express our heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Kaustub Phadtare and Prof. R. D. Mohite Sir for gracing the occasion as our Chief Guest and for their invaluable guidance. We are confident that the knowledge and inspiration gained from this celebration will serve as a strong foundation for the bright futures of our budding engineers.
